7) Supplemental Recruitment Initiatives. List and briefly describe the Supplemental Recruitment Initiatives undertaken during the period covered by this Report.

(a) Internships, Job Fairs

When any local colleges contact WOLF for internships, we accept the students and follow their guidelines. We are members of the New York State Broadcasters Association, which in turn, will send us interns when they are available. The interns are supervised by our Station Manager and the Sales Manager. During the internships, which usually last for one or two semesters (depending on the school and the amount of credits to be received) participants are exposed to and trained in the skills necessary to have a successful career in the broadcasting industry. Intern responsibilities may include, but are not limited to, hands on work with production studio equipment, involvement in the creation and execution of commercial copy and scheduling, writing and editing of news copy and public service announcements, assisting on-air personalities in the production of their programs, assisting with live remote broadcasts, working in the music library, attending meetings of promotion committees, assisting in the organization and compilation of listener data bases, attending sales meetings, and involvement with sales and the servicing of client needs and advertising plans.
